

JACOPO MARCHINI

DIRECTOR / CINEMATOGRAPHER

Jacopo Marchini crafts visceral stories that excavates the human soul—his lens lingering on unspoken truths, trembling hands, and fractures that define us. With a signature blend of poetic precision and technical innovation across films, commercials, and music videos, he's captivated icons like Ultimo, Marco Mengoni, and Il Volo for Sony, Universal, and Warner, amassing over 50M YouTube views. His psychologically intimate yet visually commanding style attracts global brands and broadcasters like BBC, AstraZeneca, Netflix, Amazon Prime Video, and RAI Cinema, while collaborating with cinematic legends—including Academy Award winner Mariel Hemingway (Manhattan) and Christopher Coppola. An internationally lauded Italian Director and Cinematographer based in Rome, Jacopo merges meticulous character-driven storytelling with sweeping ambition: his AIC-guild-recognized work premiered at BAFTA/Oscar-qualifying festivals worldwide, winning the Remi Award at WorldFest Houston and Best Director at LA's Venice Shorts. Co-founder of Movi Production, he propelled the company to Oscar-qualifying success within a year and lensed his debut feature between Cinecittà and New York (2023), followed by his second film spanning Italy, Tunisia, and Slovakia (2025). For Jacopo, filmmaking is rebellion against indifference—a freeze-frame truth when someone is truly seen. Partnering with him ignites lightning-strike connections: where fragile humanity meets technical excellence to transform visions into emotionally resonant, globally impactful cinema that delivers returns from smartphones to silver screens. Praised by film critics as “an emerging talent” (The Wild
